3/14 Lecture

Reflections on the December 7, 1941 Attack on Pearl Harbor

Thursday, March 14th at 7pm

As President Roosevelt stated, December 7, 1941, is "a date which will live in infamy" for us all. This is especially true for Thomas Gillette whose father, Capt. Claude Gillette (USNA-1909), served as the Manager of the Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard from 1939-1942.

Living with his family in "Quarters E" inside the shipyard, Thomas's childhood was unique to say the least. Don't miss this rare opportunity to hear Thomas recant his first hand experiences which include fond memories of watching Saturday night movies aboard the USS Arizona and hosting listening parties for the Army-Navy game at his home with senior naval officers. He will also share his somber memories of witnessing the Japanese planes that flew 30 feet above his home, the tragic events that followed and how life was turned upside for his family and friends as they changed their lifestyles in an attempt to ward off future attacks.

Join the Houston Maritime Museum as Thomas shares this infamous piece of history from a different perspective. Admission is free and includes access to the museum's exhibits.

HMM Seeks Summer Intern

PAID Summer Internship Available

June 3rd - August 19th

HMM had the honor of being selected as 1 of the 60 elite non-profit organizations in the Houston area chosen for the ExxonMobil Community Summer Jobs Program (CSJP)! As you know, we are undergoing an extraordinary and exciting period of re-organizing as we plan for our relocation and expansion at the Sam Houston Pavilion on the Houston Ship Channel in 2014. Our new location and extensive enhancements to our programming and exhibits will allow for the creation of a world-class maritime museum, and we need your help to make this possible!

Thanks to the ExxonMobil CSJP, we will be hiring a full-time college intern for a Collections Manager position beginning on June 3rd and ending on August 19th. This internship is an excellent opportunity for an undergraduate student to gain hands on experience in accessioning and collections management and will provide a great overview of what working for a non-profit organization entails.
